You Want to Run for a (Puppy) Title?

- Part 1 -

by Rex Shephard, International Puppy 2017

Introduction

There are many aspects to running for, and winning a puppy—or leather, or rubber, or other kink—contest and receiving a title. I'm sometimes asked what one needs to do to win. Here are my personal thoughts. These may differ from other's thoughts. As I'll likely mention a couple times: there is no one right way, but there are wrong ways.

Why are you running?

The first question to ask yourself is why are you running? Knowing yourself well and why you want to compete will help answer most questions related to both competing and, if you win, representing the title and community well. It is the single most important thing to know. On the surface it appears easy, though, I contend, it is actually one of the toughest questions.

Why do you want to run? Go beyond the surface. Be introspective and get deep to your personal reasons. There isn't a single right reason for everyone—there is a right reason or reasons for you. And there are wrong reasons.

Are you wanting to use the title to help grow the community? Do you think it would just be fun to win? Were you asked to run because a club or bar or person you respect thought you would be a good representative of the community? Did someone just need more contestants for a contest? Did you want to experience what it is like to compete? These and many other reasons could be right for you, or any of them may be a horrible reason for you. Think about it and figure it out for yourself—your reason(s) will likely be different from your fellow contestants. And only after you can answer the question decide if running is right for you or not.

Competing or winning will not solve any problems in your life, and I advise against competing if you think it will. Please consider how you might feel if you ran and didn't win. Would you work through a loss quickly or would it be a big blow to your psyche? Again, not just at the surface—please think about it deeply.

Are you ready to run?

The next question to ask is related to the last: Are you ready and able to run? You are making multiple commitments when you choose to run. The first are around preparing for and participating in the contest, the latter are around if you win (see next section as well). Each has physical, mental, and financial aspects.

Any contest, from the smallest local to an international one takes time and effort to prepare for and compete in. Will you take the time to do the preparation required? Seriously, will you invest the time and effort to do your best, or just enough to look decent or even win? As needed, will you spend the money required? Beyond time and money, there are other important questions as well. Are you willing to learn how to do or improve on things like public speaking or being interviewed? How about performing a fantasy on stage if that is part of the contest? Are you going to practice in a way that works for you?

Some other questions to think about before you enter a contest, especially a regional, national, or international one. Win or lose, are you okay being known as a public person? Are you okay with your photo posted on social media, perhaps around the world—and being publicly associated with your kink? Do you realize that you will be watched and judged on everything you do, by even more people and to a higher degree than you already are? How will you manage the people that will say negative things because they look at something differently? How will you manage those that look up to you as a titleholder? If they don't already know, would it be okay if coworkers or bio family found out—because whether you tell them or not and whatever name you use in this day of social media and facial recognition you should expect it to be public knowledge. You never know when someone may approach your mom about your win out of “concern” about their child's deviant behavior that needs to be corrected—and get shocked when she replies, “Isn't that great, I'm so proud of him” (I just wish I had a picture of their face).

One other thought to consider: How are you going to balance your individual likes and dislikes with representing a larger community, should you win? (Judges, you can still use that common question.)

Most titles have a few formal responsibilities for the winner. Two that you can usually count on are to represent the title appropriately and to return a year later to hand over the title to the next winner. Some contests expect you to be a contestant at the next level contest. Beyond that, there is often little required. That doesn't mean more isn't expected, however that will vary with the contest. Make sure you know what you are signing up for before entering any contest.

In the coming issue, pup Rex will walk one through the contest application as well as wax eloquent on how to interact and treat one's judges. He will also begin to break down the various elements that makeup such contests, especially, the interview! Stay tuned.

Rex Shephard is International Puppy 2017. A Chicagoland native currently living in the greater Austin, Texas area, he has identified as puppy for over fifteen years and has participated in BDSM play for more than twenty-five. In addition to founding and sponsoring Texas Puppy Club he is a full member of Discipline Corps and Austin Gears and an associate member of North Star Kennel Club and Chicago Hellfire Club. Rex is a strong believer that the puppy and larger kink communities must be fully inclusive and open to all sexual orientations and gender identities. As a wolf-shepherd hybrid, he is known to both howl at the moon and mix up words such as innocent and mischievous. Rex encourages pups to play and be themselves honestly and openly everywhere in a manner respectful of all with a key principle being that puppy play and kink should be fun – and we shouldn't be doing it if we're not enjoying it. In addition, he has a passion for those pups in depression, suicide awareness, and PrEP education. Rex is also part furry and an avid SCUBA diver, backpacker, and mountaineer.

Colorful Walls and Why We Should Tear Them Down

by pup Link - link@barkingnewsmag.com

A lot of puppies today identify with a fetish/kink color along with their pup persona. This has been a natural, accepted development in the community and is rather interesting to watch, especially, as some puppies kind of identify with a certain color at one point in their fetish lives only to decide later that they do not want to identify or be identified with that color anymore. Some people in our community discourage such indecisiveness, but I write to you today because I want to encourage it!

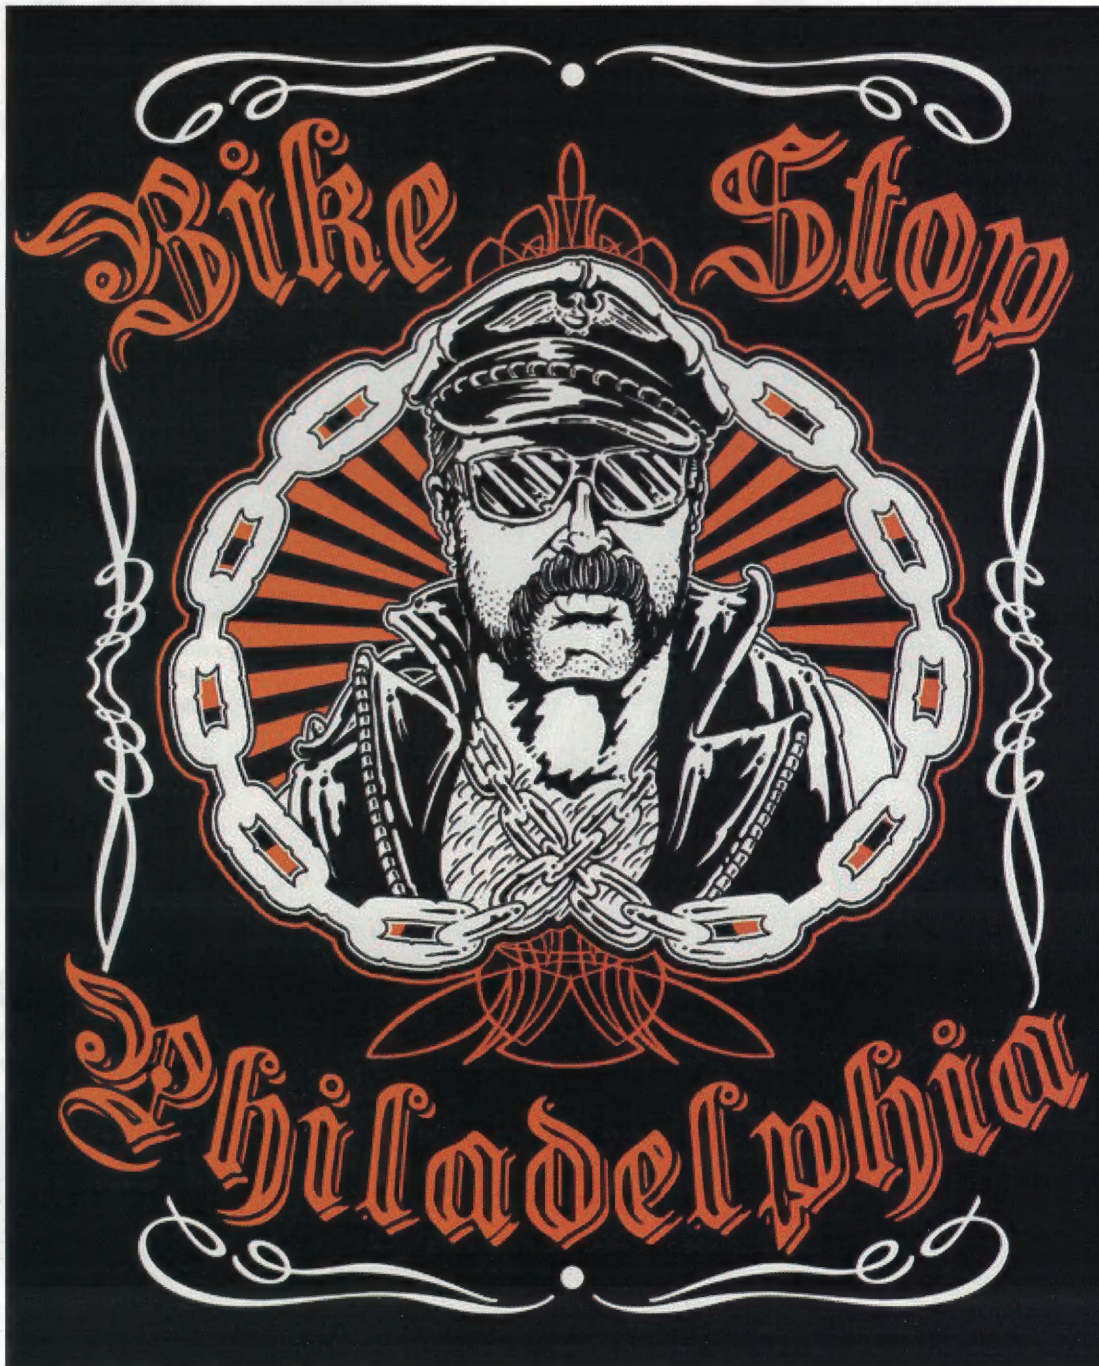

I used to be a yellow puppy, and now I wear orange. However, truth be told, I'm thinking of changing to yellow again. Some people fear the label (or stigma) that comes with the color or colors they flag. They fear that this label might deter others from approaching them at either the bar or at a Leather event. But, we must all remember that what someone else may wear should never, NEVER! deter another from approaching him or her. We must remember that whatever color a person may or may not flag does not mean that that particular color (or the sexual experience for which that color stands) is that person's whole reason for being. For example, someone who wears orange may not necessarily be looking for "Anything, Anytime." Orange has been known to be a color that subconsciously brings out excitement and enthusiasm no matter what the context. Likewise, someone who wears brown may just be representing the Dobi (Doberman) to which they identify—and not scat play.

And so, in conclusion, I just want to encourage others to wear what they want to wear and not be afraid of the stigma (if any) that comes with "the Code." Likewise, I want to encourage us not to be intimidated or put off by "the code." I want us to build bridges and be open. I want us to communicate. And so, I encourage you, make a friend this month, make a friend with someone who's colors may intimidate or challenge you—in short, make a friend with someone whose colors might put you off. Start a conversation with that person and just see where the conversation/relationship goes. You might be in for a pleasant surprise. And remember, it's not the gear that makes the puppy (nor the person), it's who you are.

Something I get asked often is, "How can I communicate with my Handler/puppy while texting?" While the possibilities are endless I have compiled a list to help.

Commonly *asterisks* are used to denote that these are "actions."

Fetish Exhibitionism: How to be Public About Kink

by Whiteout

Are you interested in showing off your fetish gear to the public? Maybe you want to go to the supermarket dressed as a puppy or ride the bus as a gimp? Whatever you do, doing it in kink gear can make even the most menial tasks exciting adventures! But there are some do's and don'ts when it comes to public displays of kink clothing.

Wearing kink gear legally

One of the most common problems I hear from fetishists is the fear of being arrested either due to public indecency or from concealing their identity. In North Dakota for example, HB-1304 prohibits “the wearing of masks, hoods, and face coverings” and is a punishable offence up to $3,000. According to the International Center for Not-for-Profit Law, eleven US States currently have anti-mask laws in place. Many of these laws however date back to the mid-twentieth century when hate groups such as the Ku Klux Klan wore white hoods to conceal members’ identities. Other states such as Tennessee and Florida have invalidated their mask laws due to them being unconstitutionally broad.

So, what does this mean to you? Well, it's always good to understand the laws and regulations where you live. I currently reside in Chicago, IL which does have a mask law in place. And yes, I do personally know puppies who have been ticketed while wearing their hoods downtown. However, context matters heavily in these situations. If your going to wear kink gear in public, my advice is to go “all in.” I usually have a full coverage suit such as a rubber catsuit or a spandex zentai suit (a skin-tight garment that covers the entire body) along with my hood. If you fully complete the look, police will interpret you more like a street performer.

Think about this from the perspective of a police officer. If someone wants to rob a bank, they probably will be wearing clothes that don't stand out (i.e. jeans and a t-shirt). If that person randomly puts on a hood, well now it looks like they have something to hide. Then, after the person commits the supposed crime, they can hide the hood and look completely normal. This raises suspicion and may lead to questioning from police. However, when fully geared up, you'll most likely attract a lot of attention. With so many wandering eyes on you, it would be ridiculous for someone in full gear to commit a crime and get away with it. People may even interpret it as a cosplay (the practice of dressing up as a character from a movie, book, video game, etc.) of some kind and not think twice.

I can only speak from personal experience, but even with all the police around during my public displays of kink, no officer has stopped me. Again, this is, no doubt, because of me going “all in” and treating the look more as a costume than a way to conceal one's identity. As far as decency is concerned, use your best judgement. For example, if a bulge is visible when wearing some clothing, try padding it with some underwear to keep it less noticeable. There is nothing illegal about wearing “alternative clothing” if nothing private is exposed.

What to do when wearing kink clothing in public

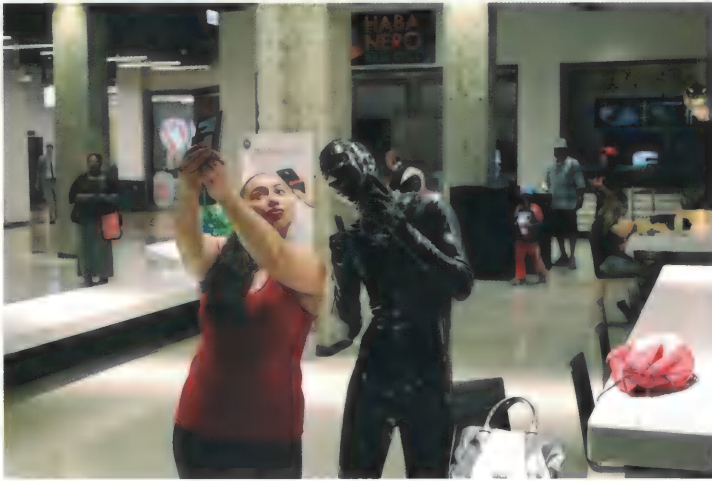

Well, here you are, all geared up and ready for a night on the town. Now what? Well, start with something small! Going to the bar is usually a great place to start when displaying your gear. Bring a buddy, have some drinks, and enjoy all the attention from random people across the room. It's alright to be nervous when first going public about kink. As the public outings become more frequent, the anxiety will pass. Even something simple such as walking down the street for five minutes will do a lot to help raise confidence. The more you go out in gear, the more you realize that people really don't give a damn and the world moves on. Now I find that going out in kink gear gives me even more confidence when out in public!

Taking a ride on the train

Most importantly, remember you are an ambassador of the kink community. Your actions will affect how the public interprets and views the kink community as a whole. In short, don't be a moron and don't be a creeper. Body language is very important since you'll most likely be hooded. If you stand quietly in the corner and stay reserved, you're going to look like a weirdo. Make sure your movements are somewhat animated, something to show there is a regular person underneath the gear. Feel free to chat up some strangers. Asking someone to take your picture is a great ice-breaker! At the same time, not all places will be accepting of kinky people. I have been escorted out of a shopping mall before due to fears of “scaring the customers.” However, I remained respectful to the security guard, answered all his questions, and we even took a selfie because he thought the situation was hilarious.

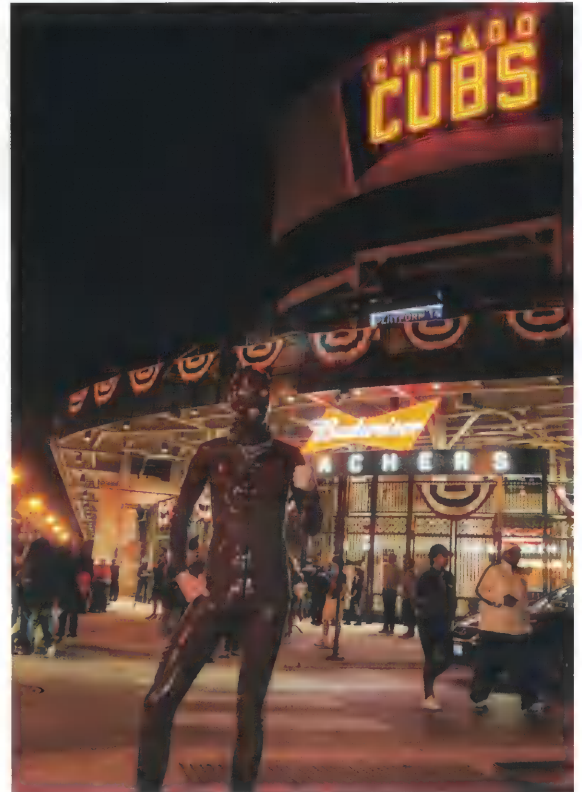

Geared up at the mall

As far as facing hostility goes, be mindful of your neighborhood and the types of people living in it. This should be obvious but try to stay away from areas with high crime. During a Chicago Cubs game, I had some drunk guy yell at me, “Why are you dressed like a faggot?” I just smiled and screamed back, “Because I am a faggot!” The stunned look on his face was priceless. Besides that quick quip, I really haven’t encountered any hostility from my public adventures. But when in doubt, it’s always good to have a buddy join you in any situation.

When people notice me in kink clothing, there are usually two different reactions: the first reaction is looking the other way and pretending I don’t exist, while the second is showing signs of curiosity or support. I’ll often receive compliments and thumbs up when engaging in public outings. These are the best times to strike up conversation and get people curious about the kink scene. In the end, confidence is key. If you act like it’s completely normal, others will too.

i-

Criticisms of wearing kink gear in public

Consent is always an important topic when it comes to anything sexual. A common criticism I receive is that the public is not consenting to see my kink clothing when engaging in outings. This is debatable, though I certainly don’t advise exhibition around schools, churches, and government buildings. But, as previously stated, if your private areas are covered, you’re just wearing alternative clothing. As with everything, context matters. If you’re mindful of your surroundings, respectful of people, and display friendliness through body language, then no one will perceive you as a threat. Good luck and have fun!

PREPARE YOURSELF

HOW TO CLEAN YOUR ASS BEFORE ANAL SEX

One of my mentors within the community provided me with this hilarious but very helpful cartoon. It has definitely taught me a lot while also entertaining me. I forgot all about this until I stumbled across it in another fetish-lifestyle magazine that is distributed in Europe.

I hope this is just as funny and helpful to you as it was for me.
Be prepared properly the next time you have fun.
Just turn the magazine sideways and enjoy!

-- Barking News Editor, pup Bolt

FIRST, ENJOY A GOOD DUNK. DON'T FORGET IT: TAKE YOUR TIME. FINISH THAT NOVEL. DON'T OVER-WIPE. YOU DON'T WANT AN IRRITATED HOLE.

THIS GUIDE FOCUSES ON THE SHOWER HOSE, SINCE IT'S THE BEST TOOL. BUT THE SAME CONCEPTS WORK FOR OTHER TOOLS.

TURN VALVE ONLY HALF-WAY. OR THE PRESSURE WILL SAND BLAST YOUR ANUS TO PIECES

DRAIN COVER OFF!

YOU'LL FLUSH YOUR SIN DOWN THE DRAIN, NOT THE TOILET. DON'T BE A PUGS.

IT'S ALL PIPES! WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

LOW PRESSURE. MAKE THE STREAM ABOUT 5" TALL. THAT'S ENOUGH.

LEAN TIP ON YOUR HOLE. LET THE WATER PRESSURE DO ALL THE WORK.

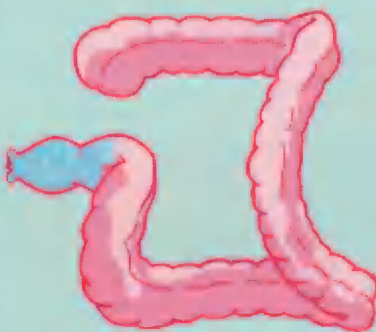

NO NEED TO PUSH IT IN. WITHOUT GOOD LUBE, IT CAN IRRITATE YOUR ASS.

FILL 'ER UP!

FAST

COUNT TO 5 TO FILL YOUR RECTUM WITH WATER. DO NOT OVERFILL. IF YOU GO PAST THE SIGMOID, YOU ARE SCREWED.

IF YOU GET WATER PAST THE RECTUM, INTO THE SIGMOID AND ASCENDING COLON, YOU WILL GET UNSIGHTLY THINGS IN THE DEEP CAVERNS. AND WILL HAVE TO DO A FULL CLEANING INSTEAD. LEAST THERE BE SURPRISES LATER WHILE YOU ARE BEING COCKSLAMMED.

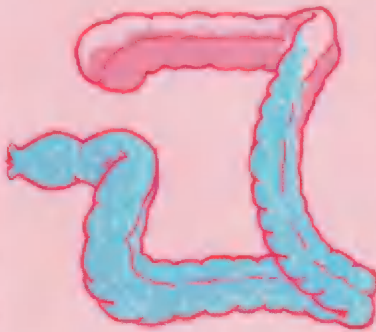

IF YOU ARE USING AN ENEMA BULB, WATER BOTTLE, OR FLEET ENEMA, DO ONE SINGLE CHARGE AT A TIME.

FULL

COUNT TO 30. YOU NEED TO FILL ALL THE WAY UP THE ASCENDING COLON, AND THE TRANSVERSE COLON.

YOU MIGHT FEEL CRAMPING AND NOT BE ABLE TO COUNT TO 30. JUST STOP. RELAX. GIVE IT A FEW SECONDS AND CONTINUE COUNTING FROM WHERE YOU LEFT OFF. IT'S IMPORTANT TO GO ALL THE WAY OTHERWISE THIS WILL TAKE MUCH LONGER.

DO AROUND 6 TO 10 FULL CHARGES FOR BULB OR FLEET ENEMAS. HOLD IT IN UNTIL THE END. TAKE YOUR TIME.

AND NEXT COMES THE MESSY PART...

RINSE AND REPEAT

FAST

REPEAT MINIMUM OF 5 TIMES. IT COULD TAKE DOZENS OF TIMES, THAT'S ALRIGHT.

IF THE WATER HAS SOME COLOR OR SMELL, DO IT AGAIN, AND AGAIN.

IF THE WATER IS NOT CLEAR, NO MATTER HOW MANY TIMES YOU TRY YOU PROBABLY WENT PAST THE SIGMOID, AND NOW HAVE TWO CHOICES:

- 1) PROCEED TO A FULL CLEANING. THIS CAN TAKE AN EXTRA HOUR.
- 2) STOP. TELL YOUR BUTT BUDDY IT WILL BE ORAL SEX ONLY FOR TODAY. HONESTY IS BETTER THAN POODICK.

IF ALL THE WATER COMES OUT SPARKLING, YOU ARE DONE! SOAP UP RINSE AND DRY.

CONGRATS!

IF YOU ARE DOING A FULL PEPER, YOU HAVE SOME WORK TO DO...

MOST OF THE WATER WILL BE TRAPPED IN THE DESCENDING COLON. YOU WILL FEEL CRAMPING AND SOME WATER WILL COME OUT, BUT NOT ALL.

THERE'S A LOT MORE THAT NEEDS TO BE EVACUATED.

IT USUALLY TAKES 5 OR SO FULL. COMPLETE FLUSHES UNTIL THE WATER COMES OUT CLEAN AND YOU ARE EMPTY. BUT IT DEPENDS ON THE DAY AND THE PERSON.

YOU NEED TO INDUCE CRAMPS TO PUSH THE WATER BACK OUT. THERE ARE EASY TRICKS TO MAKE SURE YOU GET IT ALL...

CONTINUE

LET IT GO!

THE DRAIN IS HOWLING LIKE THIS SWIRLING STORM INSIDE. COULDN'T KEEP IT IN! HEAVEN KNOWS I'VE TRIED...

IT'S TIME TO EGG! YOU SHOT OUT AIN FOR THE DRAIN! AND DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE PEE. I MIGHT TAKE SEVERAL PEEES.

USE THE WATER PRESSURE TO FORCE IT ALL DOWN THE DRAIN.

OR SQUISH IT DOWN LIKE A BUG WITH YOUR BIG TOE! EWWW!

IF TOO SOLID, INCREASE WATER PRESSURE. BLAST IT TO PIECES!

THIS IS A MESSY PROCESS, BUT IT'S ALL COMING FROM YOU. BETTER TO MAKE A MESS IN THE SHOWER THAN IN BED.

THERE ARE SEVERAL YOGA POSES THAT HELP WITH RELEASING WATER:

SWITCH POSES, MOVE AROUND, SHAKE THAT BELLY UNTIL WATER COMES OUT. TRY ADDING MORE WATER AS YOU CHANGE POSES, AND REMEMBER THE ANATOMY OF YOUR PIPES.

THESE DANCE MOVES CAN HELP TOO. TRY THEM OUT. SEE WHAT WORKS:

SHAKE THAT BELLY CHUNNI! SHAKE IT HARD AND MAKE THAT COLON MOVE.

PRESS ON YOUR BELLY IN A CIRCULAR MOTION, IN THE DIRECTION OF YOUR PIPES, CLOCKWISE!

PUSH AROUND YOUR HOLE WITH TWO FINGERS, REALLY FAST, HOLE GOING IN AND OUT.

FINGER YOURSELF (USE LUBE), REACH YOUR SIGMOID AND PULL IT IF YOU CAN.

KEEP REPELLING YOURSELF WITH WATER, USING ACTION TO INCITE YOUR BOWELS TO MOVE. ONCE THINGS COME OUT FROM THE DEEP END, IT WILL BE MESSY AS FUCK, THAT'S EXPECTED. CLEAN YOUR MESS AND REPEAT UNTIL THE WATER THAT COMES OUT IS CLEAR.

HOW DO YOU KNOW WHEN YOU ARE CLEAN?

IF YOU LEAVE THE SHOWER AND GET DEAFENING INTESTINAL GROWLS, YOU ARE NOT DONE. USE THIS CHECKLIST TO FIGURE OUT IF YOU ARE TRULY CLEAN AND EMPTY:

WATER SMELLS: IF IT STINKS, THAT MEANS THERE'S MORE TRAPPED INSIDE. PERHAPS A LOT MORE. YOU ARE NOT DONE YET.

MUCUS: YOU MIGHT SEE CLEAN WATER WITH TRACES OF INTESTINAL LINING (LOOKS LIKE SNOT, GLIMY AND ICKY, IT'S NOT SHIT, DOESN'T SMELL). IT COULD INDICATE YOU'VE REACHED THE END.

LAST FART AIR FLOATS, SOMETIMES THE LAST THING TO COME OUT IS A FART, BUT NOT ALWAYS. IT COULD JUST BE A REGULAR FART. DON'T TRUST IT IF IT SMELLS.

EMPTYNESS: THERE'S A PARTICULAR FEELING OF EMPTYNESS AND A WEIRD CRAMPING WHEN YOU ARE TOTALLY CLEAN. LEARN TO IDENTIFY IT. THIS SKILL WILL IMPROVE WITH PRACTICE.

CLEAN WATER: IF A TON OF WATER COMES OUT AFTER A WHILE OF BEING STUCK, AND IT'S TOTALLY CLEAR, IT COULD SIGNAL THAT YOU ARE DONE.

PRO TIPS! WITH HERMIONE THE HEMORRHOID

DIGITAL SCALE

WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE GETTING IN THE SHOWER. IF YOU WEIGH MORE WHEN YOU COME OUT, YOU'LL KNOW THERE'S WATER STILL INSIDE.

EAT FIBER

YOUR DIET WILL DETERMINE HOW EASY IT IS TO CLEAN. FIBER CLEANS YOUR GUT. METAMUCIL IS A GOOD SUPPLEMENT TO TRY.

COLD WATER

IF YOU USE COLDER WATER AT THE END, YOU'LL GET MADD CRAMPS. SOME PEOPLE HATE THIS! IT MIGHT FEEL REALLY UNCOMFORTABLE, BUT IT CAN HURRY THINGS ALONG.

EVERY BODY IS DIFFERENT

REMEMBER TO ADAPT THIS GUIDE TO WHAT YOUR BODY TELLS YOU. YOU MIGHT NEED MORE TIME OR WATER, OR LESS. YOU WILL LEARN WITH TIME AND PRACTICE.

THAT'S IT! PLAY SAFE AND HAVE FUN! AND FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE, SOAP UP AND RINSE REALLY WELL AFTER YOU ARE DONE!
